Dr. Hendrix,

I am seeking Board approval for the following addition to the student athlete handbook.

PERFORMANCE ENHANCING DRUGS AND SUPPLEMENTS

The Athletic Department in no way endorses the use of creatine or any other ergogenic aid, as well as energy drinks. It is our position that student-athletes should avoid the use of these types of performance enhancing products. Healthy student-athletes do not need supplements. Our students are encouraged to maintain a healthy diet, lifestyle, and exercise regimen in order to optimize performance. Use of illegal performance enhancing substances such as anabolic steroids, diuretics, HGH, etc... is included in Rule #1 in our Code of Conduct and will result in disciplinary action. There are many other commercially available products (such as creatine, nitric oxide and other nutritional supplements) marketed for the purpose of enhancing athletic performance. We advise against use of these products as they may be detrimental to the health and performance of young student-athletes. They potentially can be dangerous when used inappropriately.

Student Athletes are prohibited to possess and/or consume these products on Western Boone school grounds. Health risks associated with these products include, but are not limited to, increased risk of heart irregularities including arrhythmias, disturbances of the central nervous system, gastrointestinal problems, and stroke. Our athletic training staff is knowledgeable about the use and dangers of these products and they are available to answer questions from students and parents.

A partial list of products include: Arnold Iron Pump Pre Workout Supplement, Creacore, Green Magnitude, EXT Go, Cellucor C4, BSN NO Xplode, Beast Creature and MP Assault. Any Student Athlete caught using supplements that contain creatine will have to meet with the Athletic Director to determine the consequences. Offenses could lead to suspensions. Discipline will be determined by the Athletic Director and cannot be appealed at any time.

Supplements Position Statement

National Federation of State High School Associations (NFHS) Sports Medicine Advisory Committee (SMAC)

The NFHS Sports Medicine Advisory Committee (SMAC) strongly opposes the use of dietary supplements for the purpose of obtaining a competitive advantage. Research shows that there continues to be widespread use of dietary supplements by adolescent and high school athletes, despite considerable safety concerns. Dietary supplements are marketed as an easy way to enhance athletic performance, increase energy levels, lose weight, and feel better. Adolescents are more susceptible to peer pressure and these advertising messages, which may increase the incidence of dietary supplement usage and reinforce a culture more concerned about short-term performance rather than overall long-term athletic development and good health.

The Dietary Supplement Health and Education Act (DSHEA) of 1994 removes dietary supplements from pre-market regulation by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). Under DSHEA, a manufacturing firm is responsible for determining that the dietary supplements it manufactures or distributes are safe and that any representations or claims made about them are substantiated by adequate evidence to show that they are not false or misleading. This essentially classifies dietary supplements as a food and not a drug, and as such, they are not subject to the same strict tests and regulations as prescription and "over-the-counter" medications by the FDA. Only the companies that produce dietary supplements are responsible for ensuring that their products are pure, safe and effective for their intended use. As the FDA has limited resources to analyze the composition of dietary supplements, there is often no guarantee concerning the true amount, concentration or purity of the ingredients as listed on the label. In fact, the FDA cannot remove a dietary supplement from the marketplace unless the supplement has been shown to be "unsafe."

The NFHS SMAC strongly opposes the use of supplements by high school athletes for performance enhancement, due to the lack of published, reproducible scientific research documenting the benefits of their use and confirming no potential long-term adverse health effects with their use, particularly in the adolescent age group. Dietary supplements should be used only upon the advice of one's health care provider for health-related reasons – not for the purpose of gaining a possible competitive advantage.

School personnel and coaches should never recommend, endorse or encourage the use of any dietary supplement, drug, or medication for performance enhancement.

We recommend that coaches, athletic directors, and other school personnel develop strategies that address the prevalence and growing concerns of using dietary supplements. Such strategies may include conversations with athletes and their parents about the potential dangers of dietary supplement use. Athletes should be encouraged to pursue their athletic goals through hard work, appropriate rest and good nutrition, not unsubstantiated dietary shortcuts.

In order to discourage dietary supplement use for athletic performance:

- School personnel, coaches, and parents should allow for open discussion about dietary supplement use, and strongly encourage obtaining optimal nutrition through a well-balanced diet.
- Remind athletes that no supplement is harmless or free from consequences and that there are no short cuts to improve athletic performance.
- Because they are not strictly regulated, dietary supplements may contain impurities and banned substances not listed on the label.

Our schools take food allergies seriously. We understand that food allergies can be life threatening. Recognizing that the risk of accidental exposure to foods can be reduced in the school setting, we are committed to working with students, parents and physicians to minimize risks and provide a safe educational environment for food-allergic students.

Western Boone Schools will follow each child's Individual Food Allergy Action Plan which will alleviate any need to implement blanket food bans or attempts to prohibit the entry of food substances. While we do not support blanket food bans, we do encourage staff to consider children with severe allergy in school activity planning (e.g. staff not having nuts in the classroom, consideration of foods for special celebrations).

PARENT'S RESPONSIBILITY

- Notify the school of the child's allergies.
- Provide written medical documentation including; allergy condition, instructions for reaction, and medication as directed by a physician.
- Develop a plan with the school administration to accommodate the child's needs, including; protocols in the classroom and cafeteria as well as an emergency action plan.
- Replace medications after use or upon expiration.
- Educate the child in the self-management of their food allergy including:
  - 1. safe and unsafe foods
  - 2. strategies for avoidance of exposure to unsafe foods
  - 3. symptoms of allergic reactions
  - 4. how and when to tell an adult they may be having an allergy-related problem
  - 5. how to read food labels (if age appropriate)
- Review plan after a reaction has occurred-if needed
- Update plan annually and if changes are made to plan

SCHOOL'S RESPONSIBILITY

- Review the health records submitted by parents and physicians.
- To not exclude students from school activities solely based on child's food allergy.
- Identify a core team: (i.e. school nurse, teacher, principal, cafeteria manager) to work with parents to establish Food Allergy Action Plan. All policy decisions about food allergy management should be made with core team participation.
- Provide awareness to everyone who interacts with the student on a regular basis, including; understand food allergy, recognize symptoms, follow protocol in an emergency, and eliminate the use of food allergens in the allergic student's classroom.
- Provide proper storage for medications, include physician's orders, and keep medications easily accessible to designated staff.
- Designate school personnel who can administer medications at all times.
- Review plan after a reaction has occurred.
- Specific to individual students, provide staff training including symptoms and reaction protocol.
- Discuss field trips with family to determine any special instructions.
- Follow state/district guidelines regarding sharing medical information about the student.
